Subject: Microsoft Settlement

Dear Sirs:

I am writing in regard to the proposed settlement of the Microsoft anti-trust case, under the authority granted by the Tunney act for public comment.

I believe that the proposed settlement is both insufficient in scope and unfair in its particulars. It neither punishes Microsoft for having engaged in monopolistic behaviors, nor does it remediate the environment in order to prevent those behaviors from continuing. For Microsoft to be allowed to, essentially, garner more public good will by "donating" money to an organization they help create is both hypocritical and ridiculous. It is my hope that the court will reconsider but the punitive and rehabilitative aspects of the settlement.

Thank you for your time and attention,
Mark Greene
